xNational forests and wildlife viewing, lakes, streams, rivers, skiing, hiking and beautiful agricultural settings transport you to the great outdoors. And neighboring towns will take you back in time. Past and present are side by side in farming communities from apple orchards to grape vineyards.

General Attractions Chimposium

As you travel to the Yakima Valley on I-90, a stop in Ellensburg to visit the Chimposium is a must. Learn to communicate with world-renowned signing chimpanzees at the Chimposium & Human Communication Institute, on the Central Washington University Campus at "D" St. and 14th Ave. Appointment is required. The "Chimposiums" are one-hour educational workshops that facilitate research on primate communication by using sign language. This is the first and longest-running research project of its kind started in 1966.

Golfing

Yakima's finest golfing experience, Apple Tree Golf Course, located in an orchard in West Yakima offers an opportunity to enjoy a gorgeous experience in the country. Apple Tree has gained notoriety for the famous 17th hole, a par-3 apple-shaped island representing one of Yakima Valley's best products. Public golfing is also available at Sun Tides Golf Course, or two community golf courses, Westwood West Golf Course, Fisher Golf Course, and Mt. Adams Golf Course in the lower valley.

Historic North Front Street

During your stay in Yakima, plan to stop in and enjoy the many activities offered in the city of Yakima. Take a step back into history with a stroll along the boardwalk of Track 29 and visit very unique shops located in authentic railroad cars. Visit the restored 1912 Northern Pacific Depot, which now houses Grant's Brew Pub, one of the nation's first micro-breweries, and other shops and attractions located in the North Front Street Historic District.

Yakima Greenway

Other activities include a walk, bicycle ride, roller blade or any other form of exercise that may interest you on the Yakima Greenway. A ten-mile paved path that follows the Yakima River includes a string of parks, shady nooks, lakes and playgrounds. The Greenway is 3,600 acres of lush vegetation in a protected natural greenbelt. The unique trail system includes three parks, two fishing lakes, and two rivers. It has four river access landings and protected and natural areas to relax in.

Union Gap

Neighboring Yakima to the south is Union Gap, named for the gap between the hills created by the Yakima River. The Native Americans called it "Pahoticute" - the place where two mountain heads come together. White settlers called it "Two Buttes". A federal government survey party named it "Union Gap" after the Civil War.

Lower Yakima Valley

A tour down the Yakima Valley will bring you to several small farming communities that feature a variety of attractions. Traveling down I-82 or Highway 97, brings you to the Western Theme town, Toppenish. Here you will discover the richness and history of the Yakama Indian Nation and learn about the Fourteen Confederated Tribes and Bands that call the Yakima Valley and surrounding area their home.

Where the West Still Lives, "City of Murals"

Toppenish, the "City of Murals", has over 62 murals with more in the planning stage. The murals show scenes from the Old West, railroading, rodeos, farming, aviation events, and various historical events. Every mural painted is a historically-correct depiction of the area's history. Murals can be viewed from Conestoga Wagons pulled by mules. Or you can take a walking or auto tour of these beautiful murals. These tours offer a narrated history of each mural with an opportunity to stop and photograph the mural(s)of your choice. Enjoy the annual Mural in a Day program held the first Saturday of June. Watch several artists bring their paint brushes to life and complete a large mural in one day.

Yakama Nation Cultural Center

Yakima's cultural diversity is represented well by the Yakama Indian Tribe. The Yakama Indian Nation Cultural Center represents and preserves the Indian culture and how Native Americans adapted to our current society. The Cultural Center has become a focal point of activity for the Yakama Tribe, and a major cultural event for thousands of visitors.

Legends Casino

Flying Cows

Continuing down the Yakima Valley is Sunnyside. A small community whose mainstay is agriculture, with an emphasis on dairies. The many dairies in this small community make it easy to see why Darigold built a milk and cheese factory here. In fact, a must-see is Darigold Dairy Fair. Darigold boasts 160,000 pounds of cheese per year and Flying Cows. Under the "Big Top", (built as a big circus tent), you will find

"squeaky cheese", self-guided tours, gifts, deli, and lots of famous Darigold ice cream. Another great stop in Sunnyside is Snipes Mountain Microbrewery and Restaurant.

Specialty Food and Wine

Prosser is the next community you enter as you travel down the Yakima Valley. A featured stop here includes Chukar Cherries. The year-round tasting room offers samples of award-winning products. Samples may include a variety of dried cherries and berries, chocolatecoated cherries and berries and other regional food specialties packaged and preserved in a tasty manner.

Winery hopping in the Yakima Valley is an unforgetable journey of delightful discovery. Across this sun-soaked region, magnificent vineyards, trellises laden with rich grape varietals, lie in the same latitude as the great wine producing regions of France.

Local vintners invite you to savor their prized harvests and collect their hand-crafted, award-winning wines.

Anchoring the 30 plus labels are Chareau Ste. Michelle, whose Grandview, Washington wincry is the oldest operating facility in the stare and dates back to the 1930's. Hogue Cellars, whose first vinifera grapes were planted in 1974; and Washington Hills, an historic landmark where special events take place year around.

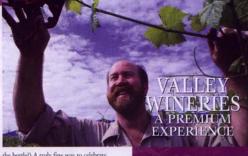

As Yakima Valley's viticulture has matured over the last two decades and its winemaking prospered, many newer wineries have cropped up to quick acclaim.

Mineral-rich soil and entrepreneurial spirit have created a wine-growing culture serious about its product but festive in its presentation. Whether a major producer or limited production, the character each vineyard portrays is as varied as the region's varietals. Each is tremendously fun to experience.

The best tour strategy is to meander down Interstate 82 to exit 40. Continue your trip on Yakima Valley Highway. Pick half a dozen places or more to explore.

You'll encounter family members in the tasting room delighted to recommend best varieties for regional cuisine. You'll learn about the winemaking process and traditional wisdom of barrel or bortle-aging wines. Local winemakers are happy to discuss the fine distinctions between each grape, each harvest and each bottling. They will offer advice on how long to store a particular wine in your home cellar or what to use in cooking.

The Yakima Valley Winery Association recommends visiting the Valley during their annual special events. For the truly delectable indulgence, attend the Red Wine and Chocolate Festival every President's Day Weekend for sumptuous chocolate confections coupled with a wonderful red wine. Spring barrel tasting is the last full weekend of April. (Who said it had to be poured from the bottle?) A truly fine way to celebrate Thanksgiving is sampling newly-released wines in the grand tradition hosted by most every winery in the region during this holiday weekend.

Taking the Tour

A wine tour in the Yakima Valley can be as varied as the individual taking the tour. The following suggested tour is an opportunity for you to sample numerous wineries during your visit.

Wine country begins with Sagelands Winery, located just off 1-82 exir 40, ten minutes south of Yakima. Sagelands Winery offers visitors a special experience beginning with an unforgettable panoramic view of the beautiful Yakima Valley and Mt. Adams. Surrounded by a state-of-the art vineyard, the winery vividly illustrates the marriage of fine modern design with traditional winemaking. Visitors are welcome to enjoy the award-winning Yakima Valley Wines of Sagelands Winery including Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Chardonnay and Fume.

A visit to Bonair Winery is next. The Puryear family invites you to visit "the little hobby that got out of hand" and share their passion for winemaking. Bonair Winery features buttery Chardonnay,

Tips on Visiting Our Vineyards

Book rooms early: The Yakima Valley's weather and location bring many visitors to the community. If you are planning to visit the wineries, book early to insure room availability at your favorite hotel or Bed and Breakfast.

Have a designated driver: Wineries pour small tastes, but they add up.

Pack a picnic: Many wineries have picturesque picnic areas. During your visits you can pick up fresh cheese, bread and wonderful treats at a local supermarket to enjoy at the wineries.

Choose your stops: It's more enjoyable to tour the wine country in a leisurely and relaxing fashion. Don't rush from winery to winery just to taste. Consider selecting a handful of wineries and take time to chat with the winernakers when possible. Save the wineries you don't visit during this trip for next time.

Keep wine cool: Don't leave bottles of wine in your car or trunk while visiting the warm climate of the Yakima Valley. Bring a cooler and take the wine into your motel room at the end of your tour.

Have wine shipped: If you bring back a favorite bottle of wine, drink it and can't find any more at your local supermarket or wine shop, don't worry. Keep the telephone number of your favorite wineries and contact them directly to have another bottle(s) shipped directly to you. Most wineries will ship via UPS, and most offer a discount for case purchases.

A Guide to Grape Varietals

Cabernet Franc (cab-er-nay-fralme) A full bodied, well-structured red varietal that is growing in popularity in Washington. Berry and herbal aromas and flavors are dominant.

Cabernet sauvignon (cab-er-nay-so-vin-yon) A major red wine grape of Washington. Rich and complex, this is a classic Northwest accompaniment to steaks, roasts or heavily seasoned entrees.

Chardonnay (shar-doh-nay) Rich and buttery Chardonnays complement scafoods, poultry and light meats.

Chenin Blanc (then'-in-blahmc) Creates a fruity wine with flavor of vanilla and pears. An outstanding sipping wine or an accompaniment to hors d'oeuvres.

Gewurztraminer (geh-vurz-trah-me-ner) Semi-sweet, light spicy white wine.

A favorite with Asian cooking.

Merlot (mehr-low) A popular varietal in the Yakima Valley. A red wine similar to caberner sauvignon, but often softer and ready to drink. Merlot is a great accompaniment to sharp cheese with flavorful meats.

Lemberger (lemburger) Makes a fruity red wine in either light or heavy styles. Some versions can be supped with picnics, some stand up to rich sauces and red meats.

Pinot Noir (pe-no-nuuhr) Elegant and silky red wine, famed for making the great Burgundy of France. This grape makes a medium-bodied red wine with complex aromas of cherries and herbs.

Riesling (rees-ling) Called Johannisberg or White Riesling, this white wine is delicately sweet and has aromas and flavors of fresh melon.

Sauvignon Blanc (so-vin-yon-blonc) This white wine is crisp and light with shades of citrus. It is also the variety that is often called Fume' Blanc when aged in oak.

Syrah (sir-nuth) Red wine packed with racy aromas and flavors of black cherry, and black pepper.

White Riesling (reez ling) Also called Johannisberg Riesling in Washington. Wines labeled "White Riesling" are often sweeter versions of those labeled "Johannisberg Riesling". They are dry or off dry. Delightfully fruity with an aroma of peaches or apricots.

Mastering the Art of Wine Tasting

You don't have to be an expert or adopt a snooty air to taste wine. After all, it is supposed to be fun. But paying attention to the characteristics of a wine can help you learn about it and about your own preferences.

- Appearance of wine is very important. Hold the glass up to the light and observe the color of the wine. It should appear brilliant and clear.
- The aroma of the wine is also important. Swirl the wine in the glass to release the fragrance. Put your nose to the glass and notice the aroma and bouquet, which come from the grape variety and the way the wine has been fermented, handled and aged.
- 3. Take some wine into your mouth and let your taste buds react to it. Is the wine harsh from tannin or smooth? Flat, lively, soft, tart, sweet or dry?
- 4. After the wine is swallowed, note the finish and the feeling it leaves in your mouth. Is it lingering or short, pleasant, bitter, soft, or astringent?

Note: Serious professionals and wine-context judges who evaluate many wines at a time, don't usuallow the wine, but spit it out to minimize the effect of the alcohol. A more common practice is our lasting rooms is to pour out the usine after a tiry sip. Neucomen may usory that pouring out any wine may offend the winemaker. To the contrury, the winemaker is thelefo to admire your good judgement.

YAKIMA VISITOR GUIDE

Biking, Hiking or Just Fantastic Views — Our Mountain Ranges Have It All

The Yakima Valley is blessed with excelent weather and a wonderful location for outdoor activities. A 40-minute drive from downtown Yakima will bring you to the foot of two spectacular mountain passes. White and Chinook Passes also offer a beautiful scenic drive from western beautiful scenic drive from western Washington, or a wonderful day trip from anywhere in the Yakima Valley.

Hiking

If it is hiking you are interested in, this is the place to do it. There are numerous trailheads in this area for hikers of all abilities. As you travel up Chinook Pas you can stop at Whistlin Jack Lodge, an award-winning riverfront restaurant, or spend the night in the newly remodeled lodge or cottages, 20800 State Rt. 410, Chinook Pass, WA 1-800-827-2299.

Other activities include fishing, hiking, hunting, snowmobiling, or simply exploring the high lakes, mountain meadows or any of the countless streams throughout this wilderness area. Boating is available at nearby Bumping Lake, and of course, the wildlife viewing is spectacular.

Mountain Vistas

Continuing west, Chinook Pass offers a breathtaking view of the 14,410-foor Mr. Rainier: it is the tallest volcano in the contiguous states and the highest mountain in Washington. It last erupted over 5,800 years ago. The Pacific Crest Trail can be accessed at the Pass. You will enter Mr. Rainier National Park, designated in 1899 as the nation's fifth national park, drawing more than 2 million visitors each year. It is a spectacular drive with some of the most beautiful scenery found in Washington State. Highway 410 will take you back to Seattle, or you can travel Highway 123, (Cayuse Pass) to visit the Grove of the Patriarchs. From the parking lot there is a 1.25 mile trail into this old growth forest. This tall stand of Douglas Fir, Western Hemlock, and Western Red Cedar is located on a small island in the Ohanapecosh River. Continue on Highway 123, visit the Ohanapecosh Visitor Center on your way to White Past (U.S. 12).

White Pass is another beautiful route to the Yakima Valley. Again, Mt. Rainier is an attraction. A visitors center located at Paradise offers a sense of Rainier's majesty and historical prominence. A must-see is the Palisades View Point on Highway 12. This 486-foot high canyon is an excellent geological example of columnar jointing. It also provides an excellent backdrop for that special photo.

Alpine and Nordic Skiing

White Pass Ski company has excellent alpine and Nordic facilities in the winter and a number of summer activities, including a summer music festival series and fly fishing school.

Those interested in alpine skiing and snowboarding will enjoy the five ski lifts, including the Great White High Speed Quad and rope tow, 350 inches of annual snowfall, and a 1,500-foot vertical drop.

White Pass

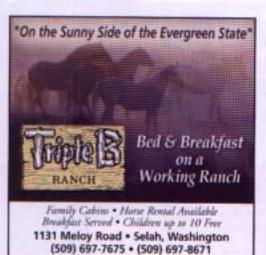

During the summer months, enjoy hiking, fishing, and mountain bike riding. The Pacific Crest Trail is accessible at the summit. Rimrock Lake is also a great place to fish and swim.

As you travel east from the summit, stop and enjoy Trout Lodge's restaurant or stay the night in a rustic log motel, 27090 Highway 12, White Pass, WA 98937. (509) 672-2211.

Both Chinook and White Pass meet at the "Y" bringing you into the Upper Yakima Valley at Naches on U.S. 12. Traveling east, you will be entering the Yakima Valley, one of the most agriculturally productive regions in the United States.

Adventure

If it's adventure you seek, you will find it in the Yakima Valley. The Yakima River Canyon is one of your first stops for adventure and natural beauty. The pleasures and beauty of the Yakima Canyon Road, Washington 821, connecting Interstate 90 and Interstate 82 are breathtaking. This canyon has been designated as a state scenic route and offers excellent wildlife viewing, fishing, family river rafting and camping.

It's thought that the Yakima River once flowed across a relatively flat landscape. As rock ridges and river erosion cut a steep, narrow gorge now known as the Yakima River Canyon, it offers a spectacular sight while traveling through the canyon. As you drift, drive or bicycle past you can see the basalt layers in valley walls which once formed part of one of the largest lava fields in the world.

The canyon provided food for Native tribes who camped and fished along the river. Settlers followed, building cabins wherever flat land and soil would allow. Early on, the canyon's wilderness value was recognized and state and federal agencies began to gather land. Though privately-held land does remain, 4,000 acres of federal land are preserved offering an almost untouched feeling throughout the entire corridor.

Bird Watching

The canyon attracts bald eagles, especially in winter. Their populations seem to be increasing, Twenty-one raptor species have been recorded. Bird watchers appreciate the many mini-climates and vegetation types that foster a variety of species found here. A long list of wildlife can be seen in the area including river otters, coyotes, cougars, elk, bear, deer and approximately two hundred bighorn sheep.

Water Recreation

The beauty and serenity of the magniicent canyon are enjoyed by recreationalists as well. During the summer months the Yakima River becomes a gentle 11mile float downstream. Motorized water craft are prohibited on most of the river offering a relaxing float. Motorized water craft are only allowed between the Roza Recreational Site and Roza Dam, which controls irrigation for 72,000 irrigated acres downstream.

Fly Fishing

Fly fishing is one of the fastest growing activities on the Yakima River, otherwise known as the place to "Chase Rainbows'. The Yakima River is a classic western trout stream in every sense. The riffles and pools provide great places for prize rainbows to hide and feed. Anglers must release all trout on this river, and are restricted to artificial flies or lures with a barbless hook.

The Yakima River is what anglers in Washington State call a "blue-ribbon" trout stream – the best in the Northwest. The prime periods for fishing the Yakima River are spring, when flows are highly variable but a wide variety of insect hatches provide excellent angling from September to November,

There are many outfitters who provide guide outings on the River. If you are a

White Water Rafting

Yakima Valley's Flip Flop, an annual event designed to save one of the Yakima Valley's most precious resources, turns the Tieton River into a rafter's dream each year during the month of September. White water enthusiasts come from all around the Northwest each fall to experience this rafters' paradise. The river is a fastpaced intermediate run that is consistently good due to the dam release.

A torrent of water is released from Rimrock Lake down to the Tieton River and into the Naches River to serve irrigation needs and help migrant fish runs in the valley streams each fall. The release more than doubles the river's normal flow to 2,500 cubic feet per second, which draws more rafters each year to tackle this whitewater adventure.

Although the primary purpose of the release is to save water, it creates one of the state's only whitewater rafting locations during the month of September. Booking with an outfitter is recommended due to the pace of the river. Call early for reservations, as the last run of the season spaces are filled quickly.

Fort Simcoe State Park Heritage Site

Established in 1856 as a consequence of hostilities between the Indians and the white men. Fort Simcoe has become one of the most-visited historical spots in the Yakima Valley. It was home to the infantry who watched over the area in the mid 1800's. Built as the advance post of the 9th Regiment, United State Infantry in 1855, it was built on an important tribal gathering place on the Yakama Indian Reservation. Planned both as a protection for the Indians against the encroachment of the white settlers and for the whites against Indians rebelling against new restrictions, the fort has a location as beautiful as it is strategic. It was blessed by abundant water, nearby timber, and an unusually moderate climate - facts the Indians had long known.

When the Fort was no longer used by the military, it became the first home of the Yakama Indian Agency, serving as a school for the Indian children. Visitors can walk through the officers' quarters which are furnished in historical likeness of their original state. Although the rooms are protected with glass, you feel as

Ahtanum Mission

Another highly recognized historical landmark, the Ahtanum Mission was built in the early 1850's. Chief Kamaikin requested of a Catholic Priest in Walla Walla that they come teach his tribe. As a result of Kamaikin's request, two Catholic Fathers arrived and built St. Joseph's Mission on the Ahtanum Creek. It was the Priests who taught the Yakama Indians how to dig an irrigation ditch and grow crops as well as teachings of the faith.

Teachings began at five o'clock in the morning with prayer with an hour and a half of Catechism. At mid morning a blowing ox horn reminded them to recite the Angelus, and at six o'clock a detailed explanation of the lesson of the morning and a class in reading and writing for children. Then some hymns and evening prayers. The Mission was burned in 1855 and not rebuilt again until 1869. The Mission still stands on the Ahtanum Creek and continues to be restored by today's Catholic community. The Mission grounds are open daily.

Some tips for bringing your stash back home.

CONTAIN IT Bring containers, particularly if you plan to buy in quantity.

BAG IT Consider packing corn in burlap bags; you can spray them with water to keep the corn cool and help prevent the sugars from turning to starch.

COOL IT If possible, bring a cooler for fragile produce. Not tomatoes however; they lose flavor when chilled.

BUY PRODUCE LAST If you plan on sightseeing and making additional stops while visiting the Valley. buy produce last. Also, buy the most fragile produce such as ripe tomatoes last.

Yakima Greenway Distance: 10 miles one way Elevation gain: minimal Season: year round

This paved riverbank pathway now extends from Selah Gap to Nob Hill Blvd., running along the west bank of the Yakima River to 40th Avenue. This popular path is convenient, and easy to find. It is popular for biking, walking, running, birding, and roller blading. Access with parking is available at Sarg Hubbard Park, Sherman Park, Rotary Lake, and from the north end of 6th Avenue just beyond the railroad underpass. The path also features picnic areas, children's playgrounds, and restrooms. Driving directions: The access to the south end of the path is from exit 36 off I-82. Go east on Valley Mall Boulevard. The main access is from exit #33. Turn east and follow signs to Sarg Hubbard Park. The north access is from exit 30B, marked for Rest Haven Road, Turn west to Harlan Landing.

Cowiche Canyon Distance: 3.2 miles one way Elevation gain: minimal

Season: year round

Just northwest of Yakima's city limits is this 3.2 mile stretch of former railroad line (now an unpowed trail) which crosses Cowiche Creek in eleven different places. It is surrounded by lush riparian vegetation and paralleled by basalt cilffs and hillsides. There is an abundance of birds, small animats (including beavers), wildflowers and shrubs. Day hikes in the Yakima Valley are many and varied, extending from the shrub-steppe zone in the eastern part of the subalpine zone of the Cascades. Depending upon the nature of our winter season, walking or hiking opportunities are available year round. When hiking in the higher elevation areas, care should be taken to be prepared for sudden changes in the weather, even in the summertime. Warm, sunny weather in Yakima does not guarantee short sleeve/tennis shoe hiking in the mountains. Ticks and rattlesnakes may be encountered in season in the lower elevations, but proper knowledge and care reduce these concerns to a bare minimum. Following are descriptions of several hikes in the Yakima area.

Driving directions: Travel west on Summittive Avenue (approximately 6.5 miles): turn right on Weileel Road. Continue a short distance until the road makes a sharp turn to the north. Turn right onto the access road, driving past the second building on the left to the parking area. Wilk on the railhead. At this time the trail ends at the former eighth crossing, at about 1.5 miles.

Ladybug Peak Distance: 4-5 miles Season: year round unless snow or heat deter you.

From East Yakima Avenue take southbound or-ramp orto I-S2. Stay in the right lane and take next exit #34 onto Hwy #24/Nob Hill Bold. Tim left (east) on Hwy #26 for about 5.4 miles to Faucher Road. Tum right and continue to Konnowac Pass. Park at a wide place on the right just before Nightingale Road (on the left) and just beyond a gate and a cirt road heading westward up the righe, Follow this road as far as you like or to the second high point where you will see several relay stations and transmitters. There are tremendous views into both the upper and lower Yakima Valley.

Cougar Rock

Distance: 4 miles round trip Season: Mid-February to May 1; trip may be taken throughout the fall and winter, depending on snowfall.

From Yakima take Hwy #12 to junction of Chinook (Hwy #410) and White Pass highways. Turn left on Hwy #12 and Cross Bridge 2 mile to Lori Lane on right. Drive, 3 mile to not of the road, if the road is muddy or snow, there is plenty of noom to park on highway shoulder. Ver left at end or road on a rough trail, which almost immediately crosses a small gully. At the top of the short, steep slope the trail follows westward on the north side of the fence at a narrow pass-through. Continue on, paralleling the niver to Cougar Rock at about 2 miles. Enjoy exploring around the rock, but it is too cumbly for safe climbing.

Tieton River Nature Trail Distance: 8 miles round trip Elevation Gain: 300 feet Season: March to December

Mileage to trailhead: 23 miles

The Oak Creek Feeding Station just west of Naches brings thousands of visitors each year. Park in the feeding station lot (sanitary facilities are available there) or on the wide shoulder off the highway opposite the feeding station and near the log bridge across the river. Cross the bridge and veer right, passing through the elik feroe into a large grassy.

meadow and onto an old road, At about a 1/2 mile the formal trail begins. The trail is completed for about 3 1/2 miles. There are some rattlersnakes from about mid-April to fall's killing frosts.

Aside from the greenery of the cottorwoods and the sparkling river on this trail, this hike offers a potential for viewing rock climbers attempting various routes on the rock cliffs in the area. The sights of these athletes provide yet another attraction during this spectacular hike.

Driving directions: From Yakima take Hwy #12 to junction of Chinook (Hwy #410) and White Pass highways. Turn left on Hwy #12 and continue almost 2 miles to the Oak Creek Game Feeding Station.

NOTE: THIS SECTION OF THE T.R.N.T. UP TO "MOON ROCKS" CLIMBING AREA (APPROXI-MATELY 1 1/2 MILES) IS CLOSED FOR ALL ACCESS FROM FEBRU-ARY 1 THROUGH MARCH 31 AND, IF EAGLES ESTABLISH A NEST, IT WILL BE CLOSED UNTIL APRIL 15.

An alternate trailhead is available, Information signs are posted at the trailhead by the Department of Wildlife.

A second trailhead is located about 1 1/2 miles farther up the highway. On the left side of the highway you will see a Quonset hut. You may park near the hut if you don't block access to roads, etc. If the area is full, find a parking place off the shoulder of the highway. After parking, walk down through the meadow beyond the Quonset hut for about two blocks until you find a pass-through on the left leading to the river and a steep suspension footbridge. After crossing the bridge, you may continue hiking upstream, or go downstream as far as Moon Rocks during the closure period for raptor nesting.

Yakima Rim Skyline Trail:

Distance: 5 miles round trip Elevation gain: 1,300 feet Season: nearly year round Driving Directions: From I-82 follow signs into Selah (be in the left lane before exit 30A from I-82), and continue to the third signal light. Turn right, then left at the end of a long block onto the North Wenas Road. Continue straight on (staying left at the major "Y" formed with Harrison Road) about 2.8 miles to the next "Y", going straight ahead (to the right of the fire station) onto Gibson Road. Continue ahead about .3 miles, turning right onto Buffalo Road. In a short distance the road turns right, then left, then left again, until about 2.7 miles from Gibson Road you will come to the trailhead. Walk a short distance from the parking area down the road and into a gully, where the trail starts up on the left.

It is a long, steady climb, winding toward an overlook of the Yakima River, then up to a high point with good views in all directions, especially down into the Yakima River Canyon and south into the Wenas and Selah Valley. Spring flowers come early on this south facing slope, and bloom into late spring.

Boulder Cave

NOTE: Day use area only. Take your flashlight.

Distance: 1.5 miles round trip

Elevation gain: 200 feet Season: May to November

This mountain cave, located between two lava flows, is located just below a falls on Devil Creek in the Naches Ranger District. It is reached by a short, somewhat steep, gravel trail from Boulder Cave Day Use Area, a pleasant pionic spot along the Naches River. Take a flashlight to help find your way in the cave. To reach this short day hike take Hwy. #12 to its junction with Hwy. #410. Stay on #410, passing Whistlin' Jack Lodge at about 37 miles from Yakima, and continuing on through Cliffdell, In a short distance watch for a sign for Boulder Cave and Camp Roganunda, crossing a bridge over the Naches River to Forest Road 1704. That will lead you, in a mile or two, to the area. On a weekday you can stop at the Naches Ranger Station in Naches for maps and more information. This area is also popular for bicycle trips, with Boulder Cave as a side attraction. The cave is closed during winter months from November 1st to April 1st.

Driving directions: Take Highway #12 and then Highway #410 west 37 miles from Yakima. Turn left across a bridge and then right on Old River Road (Road 1704), 1.2 miles to the trailhead. The turn off of Highway #410 is clearly marked for Boulder Cave.

Union Creek Falls

Distance: 5 miles round trip Elevation gain: 500 feet Season: late June to November

This hike offers two sets of waterfalls for hikers to enjoy. For a short hike to these spectacular falls, hike about 1/4 mile, crossing a small footbridge over Union Creek. As you hike up the switchbacks, watch for the third side trail to the left, which will lead you down to the base of the falls. If you want a longer hike, go back to the main trail and continue for about another 1.3/4 miles where the trail crosses a foot-bridge just above the second falls. Across the creek you can turn to the right and follow a short trail up to the third falls. This trail is passable in late May or early June, and in light snow years, possibly earlier.

Driving directions: Drive out Hwy #12 to junction with Hwy #410, staying on #410 to the bridge over Union Creek, about 1.6 miles beyond Pleasant Valley Campground, a total of about 57 miles from Yakima. Immediately past the bridge, turn right to the trailhead parking area.

Naches Loop Peak

Distance: 4 miles loop trip Elevation gain: 500 feet Season: mid-July to November

This is probably one of the most spectacular short hikes in the area.

About half of this four-mile trail travels through Mt. Rainier National Park and half through the William O. Douglas Wilderness. A few restrictions apply to these two different sections: No dogs or horses are permitted on this section of the Park, and group size is limited to 12 people or under in the Wilderness section. So, it is best to head to this day hike in small groups without your four-legged companions.

Driving directions: Take Hwy. #12 west from Yakima then follow Highway #410 to Chinook Pass. Trailhead parking is located two blocks east of the summit - about 64 miles from Yakima.

A major railway and freeway now link it to the rest of the nation.

Geographically, Union Gap is a springboard to cities in both Western and Eastern Washington. as well as the rich fertile Upper and Lower Yakima Valley. Its central location in the state has favored it with a climate tailored to a variety of outdoor activities. Businesses and industries have found Union Gap ideal headquarters for shipping commodities across the country or around the world.

Union Gap is a blend of the old and the new. A tour around the community will reveal stately old homes as well as progressive shopping facilities, theaters, restaurants and industry.

The friendly residents of Union Gap have a sense of pride in their town. The Union Gap spirit is exhibited in the city's annual Old Town Days, a celebration of people and events past and of future dreams.

Mother Nature urged the first traveler, the Yakima River, through Union Gap. Then came man, with Indians making a footpath through the "water gap" created by the river. Others soon recognized this natural route through Central Washington. The Army came through in 1852, followed by the gold miners, the first wagon train in 1875, and the stage coaches.

Throughout this evolution of travelers in moccasins and military boots, "the gap" was also undergoing several name changes. The Indians called it "Pahoticute"—the place where two mountain heads come together. White settlers called it "Two Buttes". Then just after the Civil War, a federal government survey party named this natural highway "Union Gap".

Settlers began to cluster on the north side of Union Gap in anticipation of the railroad. In 1869 with 400 residents, they incorporated under the name "Yakima City".

A reminder of those who have gone before us - the Pioneer Graveyard, established 1865.

The future looked rosy for Yakima City: in 1869 it became the first municipality in Yakima County, and until 1887 it served as the county seat.

In 1884 when the railroad became a reality, Northern Pacific officials attempted to buy Yakima City land for the rail station and yards. Some residents would not sell.

The Northern Pacific responded by laying out a new townsite north of Yakima City. Offering free land and paying moving expenses, the railroad succeeded in enticing many residents to relocate, moving entire buildings from Yakima City to "North Yakima".

By 1917 "North Yakima" became simply "Yakima", and the old townsite returned to its previous name of "Union Gap".

History is still being made in Union Gap. "Settlers" move in, tourists visit and move on, buildings and businesses are built with that same pioneer determination in "the place where two mountain heads come together".

For additional information, please contact the City of Union Gap, 102 West Ahtanum, Union Gap, WA 98903. (509) 248-0432.

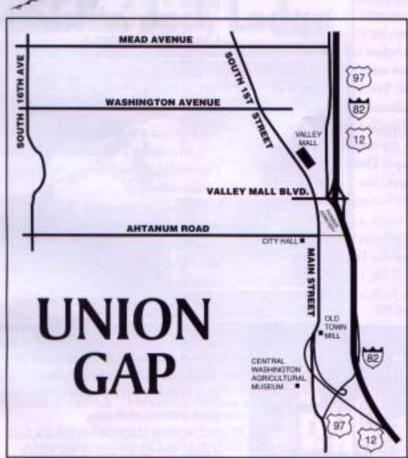

One of Yakima Valley's biggest attractions is the Valley Mall in Union Gap. It's 51-acre site houses a number of major department stores and specialty shops.

What do ice age floods, a beautiful girl, an oil scandal, a sun-drenched desert and zucchini have in common? They all play a part in the story of Zillah.

Nestled on the bluffs of a fertile, prehistoric flood plain amid vineyards and orchards that rise above the Yakima River, the city of Zillah provides a refreshing stop for visitors traveling through the Yakima Valley.

Visitors to Zillah will enjoy a taste of the good life with the many wineries, orchards and fields of produce that abound in this agricultural community.

Zillah was given its name by the city's founder for the beautiful teenage daughter of a railroad official at the turn of the century. It was transformed

Today, gateway to wine and fruit country is the predominant theme of this one-of-a-kind community.

There are eight wineries on Zillah's Fruit Loop Tour, a driving tour that makes a 23 mile loop around the city. The loop will guide visitors through panoramic views of the valley and Mt. Adams, sweeping vistas of vineyards, orchards and rolling fields with every kind of produce, ranging from asparagus to zucchini and everything in between. The loop will take you by Jones Farms where you may load up on fresh produce like bodacious sweet corn late in the summer.

The Fruit Loop tour wears many faces throughout the year. In the spring the fruit trees fill the scenery as they burst with pastel blossoms of every kind. In the summer the rolling green fields are busy with farm workers, a stark contrast with the surrounding ridges, parched, brown and untouched by irrigation. In the fall you will be invigorated by the brilliant colors of autumn leaves and the sweet smell of grapes before harvest.

Drive the tour every season for a complete experience. The Fruit Loop Tour, with its well maintained country roads, is also a popular bicycle route.

Included on the tour are historic landmarks. The Teapot Dome gas station, a building that looks like a giant-sized teapot, is on the National Historic Register. The Teapot, a fully operational gas station was once in a chain of gas stations and part of the Teapot Dome oil scandal in the 1920s. Drive past the restored church built in 1910 or stop in at the refurbished Perham Fruit warehouse (now a furniture store.)

When you are through browsing Zillah's gift and antique shops take a dining break at one of the city's many restaurants. You'll find a variety of foods from prime rib, seafood, home-style, an authentic Mexican bakery and you won't want to miss the locally famous Moe burger.

If the outstanding scenery, historic landmarks, shopping and dining are not enough, Zillah offers a variety of enjoyable events throughout the year.

Zillah Community Day in May is an annual celebration that has continued for over 50 years. The day starts off with a breakfast in the park, one of the first parades of the season and will feature an Antique Show in 2002, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

In September the Chamber rolls out its Not-Just-A-Farmers market with over 70 vendors that includes fresh produce, entertainment, arts and crafts and food vendors and a bake-off contest.

Community Day and the Not-Just-A-Farmers-Market are events the whole family will enjoy.

The wineries participate in several events throughout the year. Chocolate and Red Wine is an event in February. In April it's the Spring Barrel tasting and after Thanksgiving there is Thanksgiving in Wine Country. These events offer wine tasting, food and entertainment.

When you visit Zillah, a small community with a big heart, you will see why Zillah is truly the gateway to wine and fruit country, a good place to live, and a great place to visit.

ROSSER

Experience Rural America at its Best!

Prosser makes a great base camp for exploring this unique area of Washington. Prosser nestles at the foot of the Horse Heaven Hills and is skirted on the north by the Yakima River. We are less than a four-hour drive away from Portland, Seattle or Spokane and so we invite you to revisit your roots; relax, renew and restore.

Prosser is known for its superb agriculture. Farmers, orchardists, processors, wine makers and hop growers take pride in the products they craft from the abundant, farmfresh products.

From the beginning, greatness has been the primary objective as individual wine makers pursue their labor of love. The area's rolling hills and spectacular countryside lie just north of the 46th parallel in the same latitude as the great wine producing areas of France, The long, warm summer days, cool nights and rich soil enable > the farmers to grow some of the finest wine grapes in the world. Shortly after prohibition, scientists at Washington State University's Irrigated Agriculture Research and Extension Center began experimenting with grape growing. This facili ty, located on 200 acres north of Prosser, is the largest irrigated research center of its kind in the world. Today, 98 percent of Washington's wine grapes are grown near Prosser.

The ability to grow premium wine grapes helped establish Prosser as the birthplace of today's modern day wine industry. Today, there are ten wineries located in the area, from quaint wineries like Pontin Del Roza, Willowcrest, Chinook Wines, Hinzerling Winery, Yakima River Winery, Thurston Wolfe and Kestrel Winery to the larger wineries like Hogue and Columbia Crest or the new kid on the block, Snoqualmie. Sample their world-class wines, enjoy the scenery of the country, and be treated to first-class hospitality. Each winery is as unique as the wines it produces.

If you're not into wines then be sure to of stop by the Whistran Microbrewery and taste one of their special beers. You can also take a trip to the countryside and see the hops being grown in hop yards or make arrangements to visit a kiln to learn about the drying process.

Care to treat yourself to a taste of small-town living? Take some time to stroll through the downtown area with its old-fashioned light poles, heritage architecture and unique shops. There are art galleries, antique shops, quilt shop, jewelry and book stores.... a little of something for everyone. If it is fresh produce you want, then be sure to stop by the Prosser Farmer's Market every Saturday beginning in May till October. You can find some of the freshest and best produce this area has to offer.

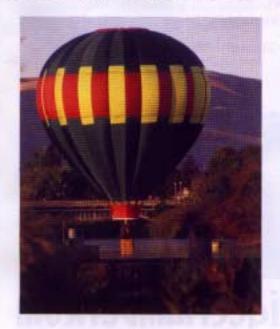

If you are a history buff spend an afternoon soaking up some of the rich heritage as you visit the Benton County

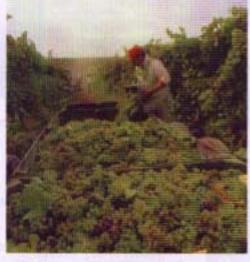

Courthouse or the Benton

Historical Museum. The museum is a place that invites browsing. You can find plenty to look at, with several rooms of interesting artifacts, collections, clothing and antiques. The Princess Theater, complete with a neon sign and the many historic homes are just another sampling of our rich history.

Plan ahead a bit and you can work a great community festival or special event into your itinerary. You can be one of 3,800 visitors who make the Prosser Wine and Food Fair an annual event during the second Saturday of August each year. Starting late afternoon, you can sample products from wineries and local food vendors. Prosser is also known for its annual Balloon Rally where as many as 35 balloonists lift off over the Yakima River. The evening's night glow event lights up the area and provides an awesome sight for visitors of all ages. If these events don't peak your interest there is the Scottish Games, Barrel Tasting in the spring, parades and many other exciting events to make your vacation memorable.

Adding to the enjoyment of a trip is finding unique dining experiences. There are small coffee and sandwich shops, a restaurant in a historical home, ethnic fare and American home-style cooking to please every palate. Accommodations await you at several bed and breakfasts and hotels in the area. We guarantee you won't be the same person you were when you came. Come experience rural America at its best!
